

BOULDER CITY HISTORIC BUILDING MATERIALS

Are you doing a remodel of a historic home and getting rid of some of your old building materials? Or are you looking for some materials from other homes to use in your remodel?

Citizens who wish to donate surplus historic building materials may contact the Boulder City-Hoover Dam Museum at 702-294-1988 or by email at info@bcmha.org. As materials are donated, the museum will also make these materials available to the public for re-use, such as for the remodel of a historic home in Boulder City.

In addition, some surplus historic building materials are also available through citizen John O'Keefe, who can be reached at 702-294-3025.
