

What's Happening around the City of Boulder City

Happy Public Service Recognition Week!

This is our week to celebrate! The week of May 7-13, 2022 is designated by the President and Congress as Public Service Recognition Week. Banners have been placed in front of the larger city facilities and storyboards describing the work of each department are displayed inside buildings. Boulder City's social media accounts will also recognize employees. City Manager Taylour Tedder will visit each department with a token of appreciation and to say, "Thank you for all you do!" Boulder City Mayor Joe Hardy, himself a long-time public servant and M.D., signed a Proclamation to recognize staff. "When I was elected, one of my goals – and it's listed on the wall in my office – is to retain people," said Mayor Hardy. "Our City employees are talented, dedicated and love what they do. I appreciate them all."

May 13 is Historic Preservation Day in Boulder City

This year's events start at the Nevada State Railroad Museum at 8:00 a.m. Saturday, May 13. View original railroad equipment that helped build Hoover Dam and learn about historic preservation efforts with representatives of the Nevada State Railroad Museum, the Boulder City Art Guild, the Boulder City History and Arts Foundation, members of the Historic Preservation Commission and the City. Be sure to check out the "bonus day" on Monday, May 15 as well! The full schedule is posted at www.bcnv.org/HPMonth.
