

What's Happening around the City of Boulder City

Employee of the Quarter is... Bridgette Rodriguez!!

City Manager Taylour Tedder presented the Employee of the Quarter award to City Clerk Assistant Bridgette Rodriguez last week! The nominations included comments like she has built meaningful connections with her coworkers and leaves lasting impressions with customers; truly serving as an example of the customer service excellence culture we value highly in the City of Boulder City. She is now eligible for Employee of the Year 2023, which will be announced at the December 14th Employee Recognition Event. See the award presentation <https://youtu.be/Xw4pv5lrZM8>. Congratulations, Bridgette!

BCPD is Joining Forces against Impaired Drivers

Boulder City Police Department will be joining forces with participating law enforcement agencies in Nevada for a Joining Forces Impaired Driver Campaign. The campaign will take place from December 16, 2023 – January 3, 2024, targeting impaired drivers. Joining Forces is a high visibility, multi-jurisdiction statewide effort to reduce injuries and fatal accidents on Nevada’s roads by increasing enforcement and awareness of traffic laws. Officers from numerous agencies focus on violations including speeding, pedestrian safety, distracted driving and impaired driving through Selective Traffic Enforcement Programs (STEP), Saturation Patrols, and checkpoints. In Nevada, a DUI arrest can cost up to $10,000 or more, having your car impounded, losing your driver’s license, potentially losing your job and most importantly, can result in injuries and the loss of lives. “Home for the Holidays is more than a song – it should be your goal this holiday season,” said Boulder City Police Chief Tim Shea. “Make the right choices. Don’t end up in a jail cell – or worse. Discuss and select the designated driver before you hit the road. Spend a few dollars on a rideshare or taxi. Every time you choose to get behind the wheel, lives are in your hands.”
