Back to School is Next Monday

Monday, August 12, is the first day of the 2024-2025 school year for Clark County School District (CCSD) students. During the 2023-2024 academic year, CCSD students experienced a chronic absenteeism rate of 29 percent. Nearly one out of every three students was absent from school for 10 percent or more of enrolled days for any reason. It's an issue the CCSD is working to address head-on and with urgency. When students miss classroom instruction, it hurts their academic success, affecting their grades and social development. CCSD has launched an initiative, Every Day Matters, that will use a strategic approach to improve student attendance. This initiative will be a communitywide effort involving local governments, nonprofit organizations, and businesses that partner with CCSD.

Getting students to attend school regularly depends on each family and their child. CCSD offers tips and strategies to get children excited about attending school. If parents/guardians are concerned about their child's attendance, they should request a meeting with school counselors or an administrator so they can work on making progress.
