

What's Happening around the City of Boulder City

Proclamations Made Easy!

The City Clerk's Office occasionally gets calls from residents asking how to get a Mayoral Proclamation to recognize significant events, public observances, celebrations or contributions to the community. Now, you can request one anytime online! Requests must include a draft of the proclamation text and proposed issue date. Proclamations are not issued more than 30 days in advance, and are not automatically reissued each year. (Proclamations are not issued to honor birthdays, anniversaries, weddings, graduations, or achievements. Certificates are available upon request for these types of events.) The City Clerk's office reserves the right to modify or rewrite language at their discretion. The Mayor reserves the right to approve or decline any request. Visit www.bcnv.org/proclamations for details.

SCAM ALERT from BCPD!

Boulder City Police are reminding us to be aware of a scam reaching people across the country. Phone fraudsters use the threat of arrest warrants or missed jury duty to pressure people into paying hundreds, sometimes thousands, of dollars. The scammer poses as an official-sounding Police Officer and even fake their caller ID to make the number appear to come from law enforcement.

The caller says that there is a warrant out for their arrest for a certain fine amount: anything from missed jury duty, to failure to pay taxes, to a traffic violation. The scammer tells the victim they can make a payment (such as cash drop off, eGift cards, or cryptocurrency) to avoid arrest. Often, the scammers are not even in the jurisdiction where the crime occurred. Please remember, BCPD will NEVER ask for payment or offer to negotiate payment in lieu of arrest over the phone.
