New Signs "Count Your Steps" near Nevada Way

Next time you are visiting businesses near Nevada Way, be sure to check out the new signs that share your steps to businesses!! Designed by Shanon Reiman (Public Works) and Carly Poindexter (Communications), the signs encourage visitors to the business district to enjoy the sights while doing something healthy: getting in your steps for the day! The signs are currently placed on temporary locations but will be permanently installed once the Nevada Way project is complete in late September.
