Please refer to the below items regarding considerations and new safety measures that will ensure a smooth transition during reopening.

CONSIDERATIONS BEFORE REOPENING

- Has the Governor’s office authorized your business type and/or sector to reopen?
  - If you are unsure, please check the Nevada Health Response website, click here.
  - If you are not already familiar with the phased reopening model for Nevada and Nevada businesses, please read “Nevada United: Roadmap to Recovery” released by the Governor’s office on April 30, 2020 available here.
  - Guidelines and protocols on Phase One for business reopenings as released from the Governor’s office on 05/07/2020 can be found here.

- Can the business be opened in phases?
  - Is there a cost-effective way to reopen?
  - Are there segments of your business which can be reopened in phases to allow for minimized risk to your employees and customers?
  - If you can reopen in sections, establish a plan for phased opening prior to opening your doors.
  - Identify options and procedures for curbside pickup/delivery before physical store opening, if applicable. More Information here.

- Do store hours need to be adjusted to comply with any direction from the State, Governor’s office declarations, or local government?

- Do specific hours need to be established to accommodate the more vulnerable population to minimize risk of exposure?

- Are you able to provide touchless, or distanced, payment options?

- Can certain employees continue to work from home?
  - Adjust physical/in-house staffing as needed.
  - Employees that are sick or showing signs of illness should be required to stay home.
  - Are you able to support paid-time off for sick employees?
  - Are you able to provide flexible schedules for employees in caretaker roles for vulnerable populations, or that are in need of alternative child care options due to any continued closures?
  - Are you able to provide human resource measures and family support plans to those employees than may need to address new physical or psychological impacts from the stay-at-home order?

- What business with vendors, auditors, and customers can you continue to do over the internet or via phone to avoid unnecessary exposure?

- Consider developing a cleaning and sanitation plan based on guidelines from the CDC, SNHD, State, and any direction from the Governor’s declarations. If you develop a plan, consider including information and training for employees, and public health and safety considerations.

- Guidance for store and employee distancing measures can be found on the CDC’s website here.

- FEMA has put together a list considerations for “Reconstituting Operations” that may be useful to those seeking additional guidance for new operational standards during the COVID-19 pandemic, available here.

BUSINESS LICENSE STATUS CHECKS

- If you did not make any changes to the business operator of record, business activities, or change of locations during the Governor’s Emergency Directives, please continue through the rest of the checklist. Things to know when reopening:

PHYSICAL FACILITY

- Check to ensure all utilities are turned on; all appliances, point-of-sale systems, and public facilities are in working condition, sanitized, and operational.
- Contact your local waste hauling contractor to confirm the level at which service is still being provided (some services may be on hold due to closures or public safety), and other schedules for pick-up to include trash/recyclable removal and interceptor/grease trap maintenance, if necessary/ required.
- Adjust store customer capacity standards as necessary to be able to maintain safe distances inside the location, or according to any direction from the State of Nevada and/or Governor’s declarations regarding reopening.
- Contact standard maintenance providers to ensure that service will be available should it be needed.
  - If certain standard maintenance providers are not available, or have not been approved to reopen, you may need to consider a phased-in approach to reopening.
- Ensure that security plans are updated and operational.
- The Clark County Department of Building and Fire Prevention has created a checklist for your use as well, available here.
Consider adopting a system for after-action reports or suggestions for improvements to current measures from employees.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS

- Businesses that have continued to operate during the shutdown must also consider the information provided by this guide, the SNHD, the CDC, the State of Nevada, and any declarations, directives, or guidance issued by the Governor.

- This guide is to be considered in conjunction with pre-existing law, ordinances, and regulations for business operations.

- Taking guidance from the State of Nevada, the Governor’s office, and the Board of County Commissioners, Clark County departments have issued waivers and exercised administrative leniency in the application and enforcement of County ordinances, rule, and regulations to facilitate daily operations during the COVID-19 emergency. These accommodations apply only to the COVID-19 related issues, and do not abrogate or negate any applicable law, ordinance, or regulation pertaining to legal business practices and public safety.

- This guide may be updated at any time following any future direction from the State of Nevada, the Governor’s office, or the Board of County Commissioners. Clark County will prioritize keeping the business community informed of any changes.
